Checklist of the Birds of Cape May County, New Jersey

CAPE MAY COUNTY, NEW JERSEY is world-famous for bird study. Its peninsular shape, diversity of habitats, and strategic position along the East Coast combine to make the Cape attractive to a rich diversity of birds. Ornithological studies can be traced to the pioneering work of Alexander Wilson and George Ord in 1808. In fact, Wilson's Plover was first described from the South Cape May Meadows and the Cape May Warbler was named by Wilson from a specimen taken in Cape May County by Ord. John James Audubon painted in the marshes of Great Egg Harbor. Witmer Stone documented the area's bird life from 1888 to 1937 in his classic work, Bird Studies at Old Cape May (1937).

This checklist treats birds found in Cape May County, the waters of Delaware Bay, and offshore to a distance of 50 miles. It contains sightings of 420 species that have been observed here through June 2010, and excludes hypotheticals and known or suspected escapes. Two subspecies are shown in italics. Species are listed in accordance with the guidelines established by the American Ornithologists' Union. For more detailed information, please refer to The Birds of Cape May (1997) by David Sibley and Birds and Birding at Cape May (2006) by Clay and Pat Sutton.

SEASONAL OCCURRENCE:

W - Winter December to mid-March
Sp - Spring Mid-March to May Su - Summer June to mid-July
Ef - Early Fall Mid-July to mid-September
Lf - Late Fall Mid-September to November

RELATIVE ABUNDANCE AND STATUS:

Note that these are average numbers in suitable habitat.

c - common should not miss; more than 20 individuals per day f - fairly common usually seen; 5 to 20 individuals per day
u - uncommon seen in limited numbers; 1 to 4 per day s - scarce usually present, but not seen daily r - rare seen only a few times per season
v - very rare very infrequent; averages 1 or fewer records per season (p) - pelagic found primarily at sea; listed status is that from shore
(i) - introduced not native to New Jersey

* - regular breeder
 ** - irregular, presumed, or recent former breeder
